

Product Introduction and Content

DeFi product gains income through the "Yield Farming" system. Yield farming is providing liquidity to parity pools of decentralized exchanges and partnering commission incomes of transactions occurring in these parities. BV Crypto aims to provide the most secure and highest returns by taking various parameters into account such as security standards of decentralized exchanges that will provide liquidity, sizes of the parity, magnitude of the pool. Since DeFi Product provides income through commissions of the exchange, the return of the asset is dollar-based and provides an income not on a period-by-period basis but continually.
